Re: Purdue Pharma LPetal Case No.
19-23649

Dear Judge Drain,

My son suffered from opioid addiction due to Oxycotin. Nothing any Sackler says can change that truth.

It feels as if it is easier for the Sackler family to obtain releases than victims to receive relief.

Judge Drain, don't let this happen.

The Sacklers and Purdue were not innocent bystanders who only wanted to offer pain relief, absent knowledge of harm.

There are legions of victims, who thru no fault of their own, were exposed and harmed. For more years than I want to count we dealt with the harm of that exposure.

As you deliberate the scope of the settlement and impact of the releases, be aware the portrayal of and by the sacklens of empathy and profound sadness is meant for an audience of one - YOU.

Look at the gulf between relief offered claimants and hurdles filing a successful claim for a pitence and the value of their retained wealth, release from liability and avoidance of responsibility.

Sincerely,
